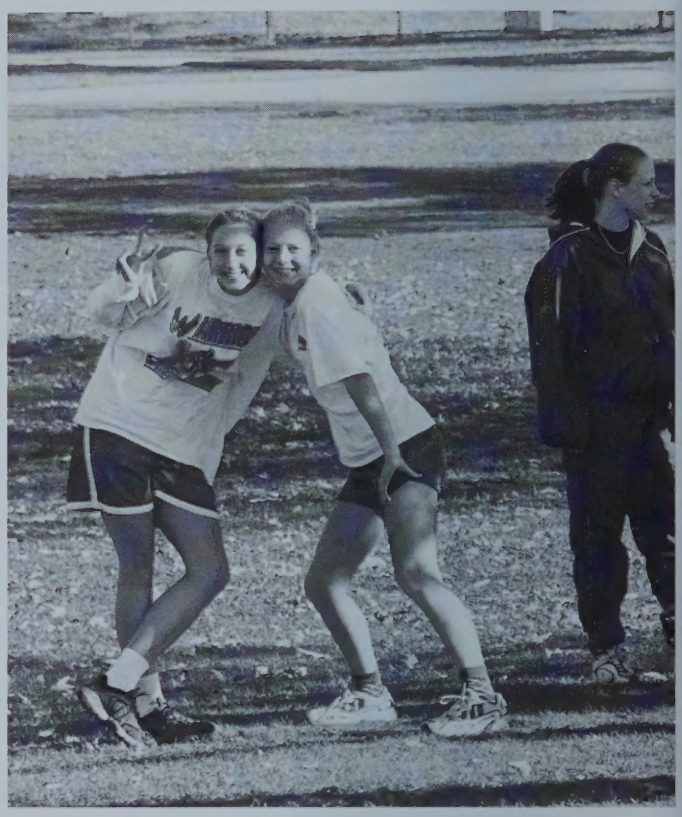
This year, Tantasquians (that's what we're called — right?) broke new ground and saw the opportunity for ever more groundbreaking in the future. The giant odometer changed to 2000, we went without snow for a record-breaking length of time, some cool new stores set up shop in the area, and a new school seems closer than ever.

With the turn of the millennium, all of the computers in the school suddenly went back to 1980. Time travel; now that's breaking new ground! Besides the glitches, the transition was pretty smooth; no apocalypse, no end of society as we know it. Hey — maybe this global warming thing isn't so bad. We saw the same ground until the middle of January, thanks to the lack of snow. This gave bus drivers a break and kept our superintendent from having to make a decision that would inevitably anger 50% of parents in the district.

Sure, Sturbridge is great for tourists, but a teen can only buy so many candles. Wal Mart et. Al. gives kids in the area a new place to shop and hang out. These new stores give Sturbridge a whole new identity; pretty groundbreaking for a 200+-year-old town. With the new school finally in the works, students at Tantasqua can look forward to many years of future groundbreaking. Meanwhile, this year has seen its share of interesting people, things, and events …

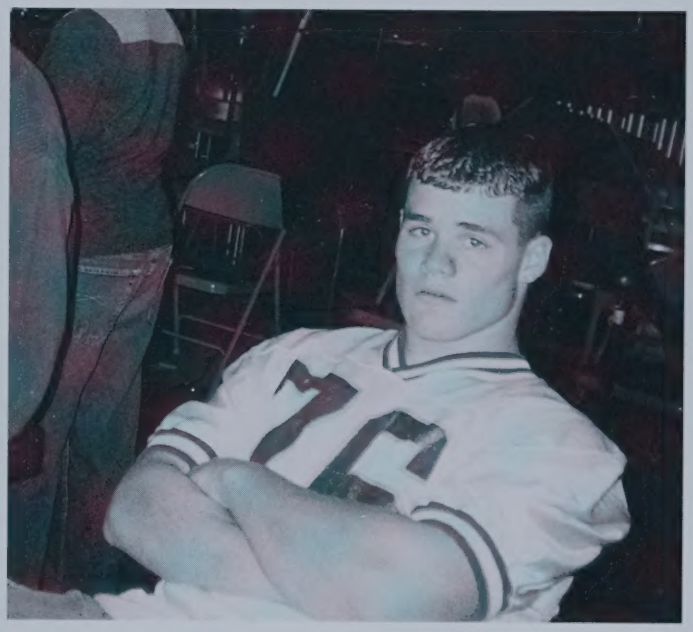


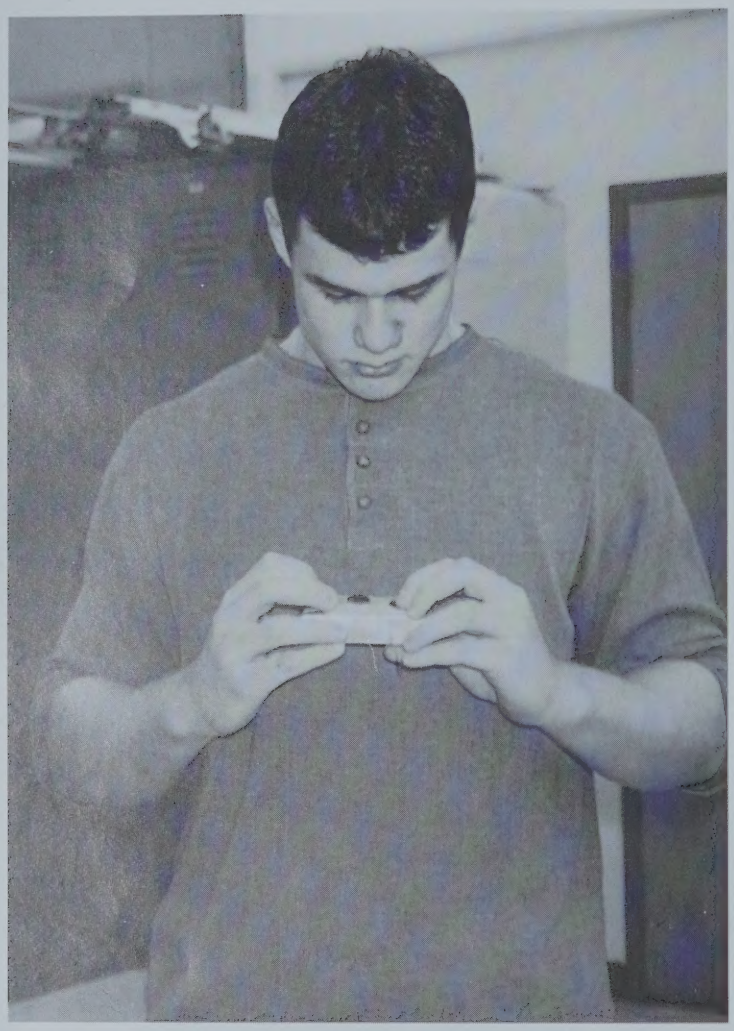
The students and teachers of Tantasqua have broken new ground this year. This includes adjusting to our changing world and stepping into new roles and responsibilities.

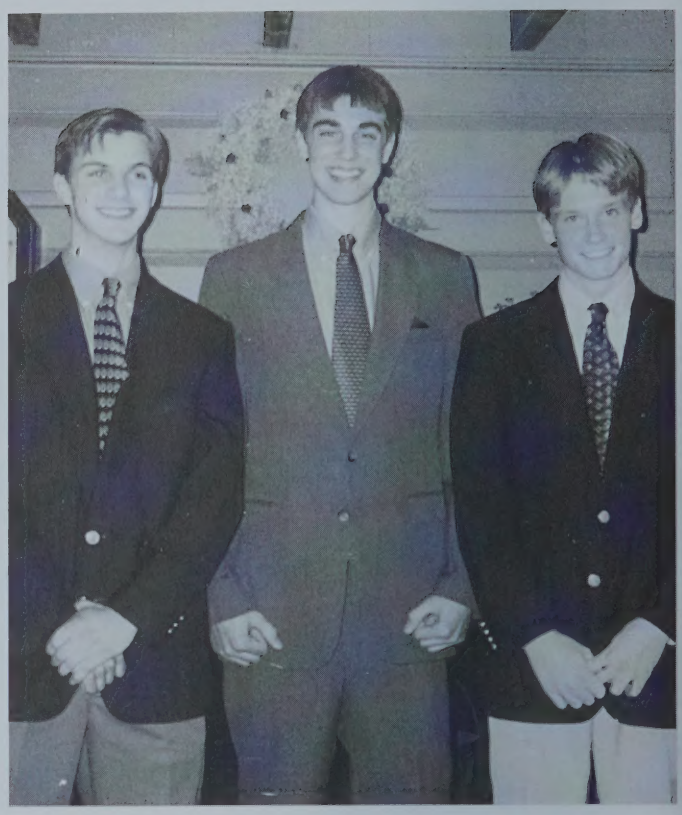
Seniors, as they do every year, assumed the leadership of the school. They broke into the world of college applications and career choices. Juniors broke into driving, getting jobs, and doing more homework than they ever imagined possible. Sophomores broke into the high school for the first time. They got to know the freedom of an open campus and the joy of double blocks. Even the delinquents of the school had to be more creative as Mr. Dobrowolski has learned their favorite hiding places. To balance off the crackdowns on smoking and other problems, students who made highest honors were rewarded with a groundbreaking luncheon to recognize their accomplishments.

Tantasqua has broken new ground this year like never before; a pretty good groundbreaking accomplishment in and of itself.

Tantasqua ...
Breaking New Ground







Most of our high school career is spent inside the classroom, but the majority of our memories and ground-breaking experiences lie outside the cracked brick walls. Our personalities break at sporting events and dances, and who we are is shaped around our friends. Extra-curricular activities and interest clubs provide a meeting ground for students with similar interests and aspirations. Student life at Tantasqua provides students with a little motivation and a lot of fun.

Prom 1999

"A Dream Worth Keeping"

High school just wouldn't be high school without the prom. So in May of 1999, Tantasqua carried on the tradition at Holden Hills Country Club.

For many people the evening began with copious amounts of picture taking, smiling, and the like. Girls had high heels and fancy hair, while boys had on tuxedos (and had even showered for a change!). Everyone looked their best.

From there, everyone headed over to Holden Hills to eat, drink, and dance the night away. It was slow at first, but after the delicious buffet dinner people began to cut loose. High heels began to come off, hair came down, jackets and vests came off — and everyone had a blast.

Despite looking slightly worse for the night, people walked out the door smiling. They all carried away "a dream worth keeping" — along with some cool party favors!

The King and Queen: This year's King and Queen of Homecoming were Andy Wood and Nadia Aslami. It seems that these two were destined to play the role — Class President and Vice President, they just go together! Here they wear their crowns and lead the class in a dance.

◀A good crowd turns up.

▼Hey, smile Kenny!

At Homecoming 1999, fall was definitely in the air. The gym was decorated in the latest fall fashions, complete with pumpkins, hay bales, and lots of balloons. The night started slowly, but it quickly heated up with the help of the DJ. It wasn't too hot though, as free refreshments were provided for everyone.

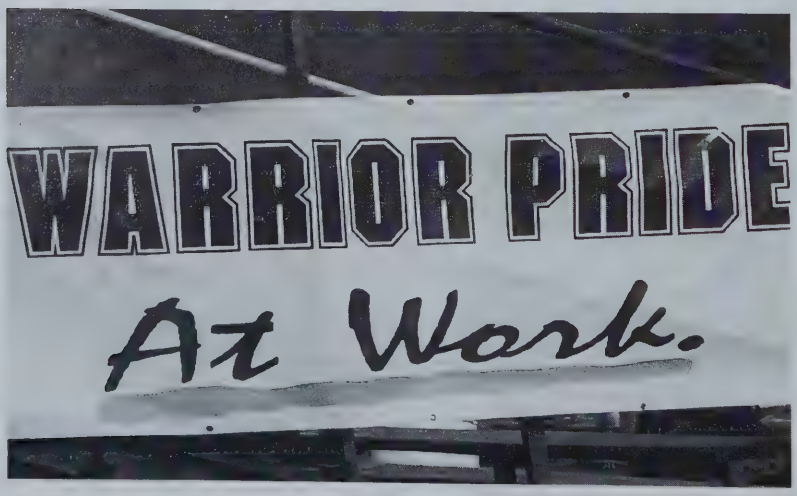
Everyone applauded the court, which included Andy Wood, Justin Beauregard, Mike Barker, Nate Attela, Dan Looney, Nadia Aslami, Karli Gliesman, Kate Messenger, Lois Casaubon, and Tara Hogan. In the end, Andy and Nadia were named King and Queen.

By the end of the night, many of the balloons had popped, the refreshments were gone, and all the people filed out. Just as fall turns to winter, the dance had to end.

▲Oh, when the saints … go over there!

▲And the crowd goes wild!

▲This sign pretty much speaks for itself.



▲Go Warriors Go!

On December 10th, students engaged in the annual event, Spirit Night. Though the turn out was not as great as in previous years, everyone had fun. The congrats go to the Juniors for the night. Games were exciting and the gym was filled with school spirit. This show that Tantasquians sure know how to show off their class pride.

"Warrior Pride"

Whether it be fall, winter, or spring, Tantasqua is always showing school pride. In the fall, the stands are packed for football games. In the winter, we cheer on the basketball teams. In the spring, we cheer on the baseball team to victory. It seems that Tantasqua is always showing "Warrior Pride."

With a spirited student body, it's not uncommon to see plenty of face-painting, hair-dying, and shirt removing at the games. After all, what better way to show school spirit than by painting a large "T" on your chest? And from the less adventurous fans, there is always a lot of noise.

Whether you are a marching band member, part of the color guard, a cheerleader, or just a fan, it seems that everyone at Tantasqua can show at least some "Warrior Pride."

▲Tennis Superstar, Dan Mason.

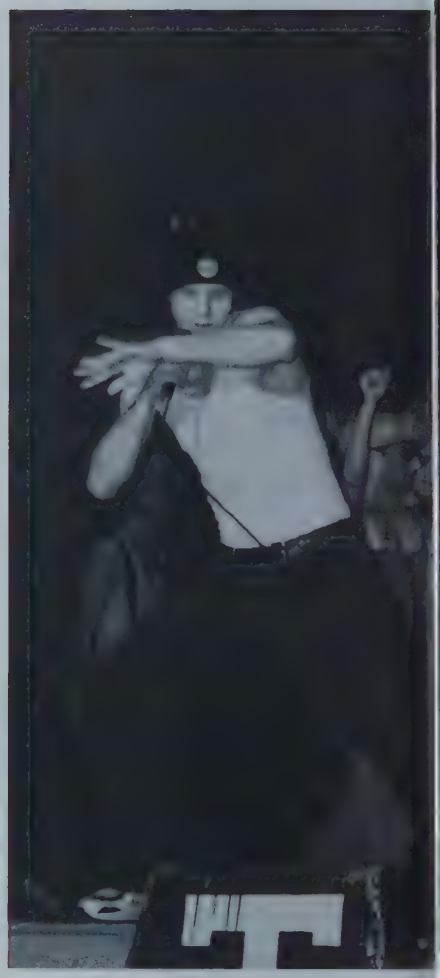
Mr. Tantasqua 1999



The 1999 Mr. Tantasqua Pageant was a success in its second year of production. Despite being put on during a school night, hundreds of students turned out to watch the performance. The MCs for the evening were Jon Greene, Joe Coan, and Tara Hogan.

The evening started out with a formal wear competition and continued with swimwear, casual wear, and a talent portion. Some of the talents included singing, dancing, biking, soccer ball juggling, fruit smashing, and other interesting acts.

After the dust settled, Mr. Tantasqua veteran Graham Phillips emerged victorious. He beat out other tough competitors, including runner-up Andy Wood and third-place finisher Dan Looney. Overall, everyone tried hard and did well, treating the audience to a very entertaining evening.

▲Jeff and Dan: "Ain't nothing but a heartache."

▲The MCs talk it over.

▲Everybody get down!

▲"Friends, Romans, Countrymen ..."

▲It's a regular ho-down with Joe and Tom!

And the Winner is ...

Even though Graham Phillips won, he still swears, "I'm not kissing ... up." This two-time competitor improved over last year's finish. He wowed the audience with a poem and a karate demonstration en route to his first place finish.

Outside Activities

Whether it be dancing, horse back riding, or dirt-bike racing, Tantasquians seem to know how to find enjoyment outside of the classrom. Although we study hard during school hours, once school is out it is time for a myriad of activities.

Featured on this page is Ken Hawk, who is an avid dirt-biker. Also shown is Jimmy Morris, who rides horses and works at a barn. Shawna Hughes has been dancing since she was little, and Charley and Andy find different ways to relax when not focused on the classroom.

Other favorite pastimes of students include skiing, skating, and playing music. Overall, Tantasqua students enjoy a wide variety of activities once they leave school.

Wales Skate Park

▼ Jon Greene goes for the grab.

With the new Millenium, it seems that more and more people are interested in skating, rollerblading, and biking. To give these people a place to work on their tricks and to showcase their talents, a skate park was created in Wales. The park was the idea of Jon Greene, and many other people helped to build the numerous ramps, rails and jumps. Rad!

▲ Tim Turcotte gets mad air in Wales.

Student Dress-up Days

▼ An unlikely trio on Halloween.

It seems that students at Tantasqua love to hold dress-up days; whether they are for Halloween, "Millenium Monday," or spirit week. The costumes that students wear are as varied as they are strange, and everyone really gets to show their creative sides. Cross-dressing appears to be a popular option for the guys, and though some of them make for some ugly women, everyone has fun on dress-up days!!!

▲ Ashley seems to be giving us a sign.

▲ Ahh! The bearded lady!

▲ I'd hate to meet this guy on the field hockey field.

Student Jobs

▼The Shaw's gang shows their pride.

Many students at Tantasqua lead "double lives" — no, not those doubles lives, they hold jobs in addition to being students. It seems that more and more students are seeking jobs in order to earn a little extra cash for gas, dates, whatever! Popular areas for student jobs include grocery stores and fast-food restaurants. With the addition of Super Stop & Shop, there are even more jobs available than ever in grocery stores. Work, work, work!

▲ Joe Macon makin' burgers at BK.

▲Teresa and Kim look very Friendly.

▼ Nicole and Violet: are they really pants men?

▲Mamma Mia, the Rom's crew.

▼ Justin Clifford on the job in Stop & Shop

Shaw's or Stop & Shop

With the addition of a Super Stop & Shop this year, Sturbridge now has two grocery stores. So, which is better? One customer says, "Stop & Shop is better because of the newness," while others disagree and prefer the old. "It's a loyalty issue," says a die-hard Shaw's fan. So, next time you go out to pick up some groceries, it's up to you to decide.

The faculty must have the hardest time breaking new ground. Every September — write about what you did last summer; at the middle of each year — midterms; at the end of every semester — finals. What else is there to do? Despite these difficulties, the faculty should be teaching well into the next millennium. With a new school around them, they can stop fighting over whether or not their room will have heat in the winter and start concentrating on other things (like finding a way to get rid of tests).

Talk about breaking new ground! Many of this year's Seniors will be chewing old grounds trying to stay up and study for college exams at this time next year. Others will be getting their first full-time jobs and trying to make it on their own. Whatever the case for Seniors, 2000 will not just be the first year of the millennium, it will be the first year of the rest of their lives. The choices made throughout high school will finally start to pay off. Whether that means admission to a premier college or a life on the streets, Seniors will begin to reap what they sow.

Mrs. Mary Duff ...

More than your Average Secretary

Any member of the senior class will tell you that Mrs. Duff, the guidance secretary, is the most valuable tool in the college application process. She seems to have the College Board wrapped around her little finger — well she's pretty good at mailing out transcripts anyway. However, we were all distraught to discover that Mrs. Duff's fourteen and a half year career at Tantasqua was coming to an end at the beginning of the year 2000. She said that she always wanted to graduate with a class, but she just couldn't decide which one. 1/1/00 seemed like an appropriate time to enter a new phase in her life, so it was on that date that she joined her husband Bob (a retiree of two years), her five children Kathy, Stephen, Bob, Mary, and Nancy; and her five grandchildren. After returning from a celebratory trip to Florida, the treasured secretary plans to get back into the world of volunteerism. She did a great deal of volunteering before her children went to college, and she feels that there is a lot to be gained from this kind of work. Looking back at her career at Tantasqua Mrs. Duff was nothing if not modest. She was sure that everyone would do just fine without her. That remains to be seen.

"A DOG'S

ACK TO REEDOM

It's official — the average Junior has pulled twenty three all-nighters this year. That's the new ground they don't want to break. As for going from being the scum of the school one year to being the class that gets to push around the new scum, Juniors have adapted to their new roles very well. While lots of homework may be a pain now, it will help to prepare for the rigors of college (at least that's what they have to keep repeating as they down their fourth cup of coffee).

"Never mind what others do; do better than yourself, beat your own record from day to day and you are a success."

Ashley Belanger, the All-around Spotlight, is the President of the class of 2001 and a strong leader both in school and out. A good example of this was her position as captain of the girls' soccer team last fall, and of the girls' basketball team last winter. While participating actively in all of her extracurricular activities, she has managed to remain one of the top ten students in the junior class.

"Let us think of education as the means of developing our greatest abilities, because in each of us there's a private hope and dream which longs to be fulfilled."

Joe Ciesla is our Academic Spotlight. As the valedictorian in the junior class, out of 249 students, the spotlight is well deserved for him. Ciesla manages to play football, run on the track team and retain a position on the baseball team while also performing as an energetic member of Student Council, National Honors Society, and the Math Team.

Quinnen Donahue is our junior class Service spotlight. Every time you see her, she's smiling or helping someone out. Quinnen engages in many Tantasqua clubs as an active member. These organizations include the Student Council, National Honors Society and the Thomas Jefferson Forum. She also plays field hockey, and runs for the indoor and spring track teams.

"Be kind to everyone; your smile has the power to bring confidence and happiness to others."

Sophomores broke new ground this year; each one of them leaned over a bubbler at least once before noticing the sign. They also found out how caring the school is, locking the bathrooms for their convenience. In the lunchline, they realized that cheaters never win, but they do get to eat first. With double blocks, and a bell that sounds appropriately like 50% of the nation's alarm clocks. Yet, somehow the enormous bunch of them has dealt with it and broken themselves into a new school pretty well. Welcome to your new high school career.

Tech students are our groundbreakers, literally, for the next millennium. Maybe if we had them building the new school, it would be done already. Metal, wood, plastic, sheetrock-tech students work with the materials that hold our society together. Think about it; who would you rather have with you on a desert island — someone who can calculate the sine of an angle or someone who knows how to build a boat? So, four years from now, when today's tech students have a successful career, today's academic students will say, "why didn't I think of that?"

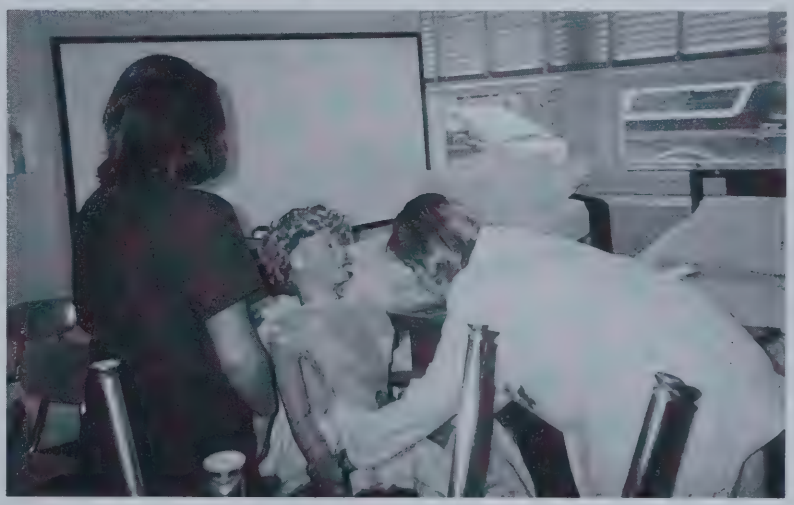
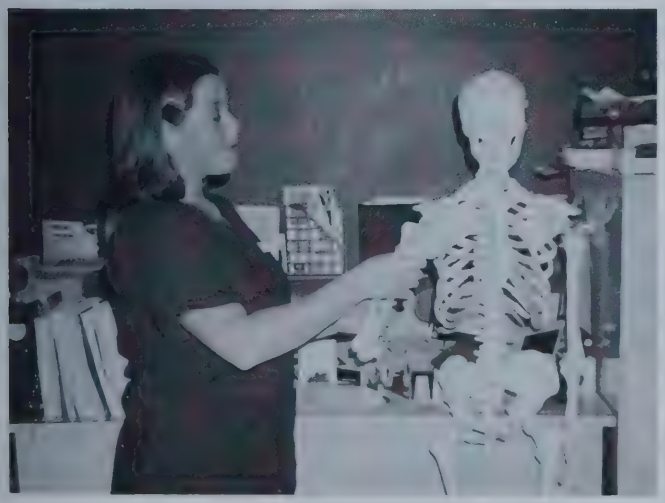
Allied Health

The Allied Health course in Tantasqua's Technical Division is a two-year program designed to prepare students for career opportunities in the health care field and for post-secondary education in any health related major. Medical terminolgoy for the health care profession, common disease conditions related to each of the body systems, and ethical and legal issues that exist in health care today are all covered in the program. Students also become American Red Cross certified in CPR and First Aid.

By the senior year students are prepared for clinical rotations at various acute and long-term health facilities. Upon successful completion of the course, students are eligible to take the Massachusetts state exam for certified nursing assistants and home health aides.

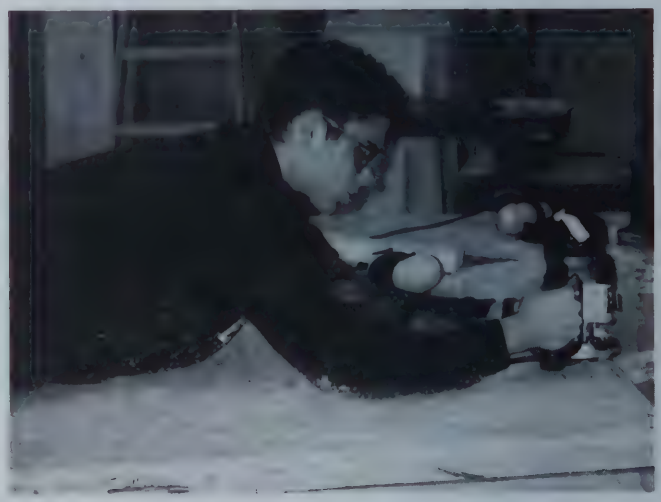
We would like to note that not all students of Allied Health were available on the day that photos were taken.





Seniors

Juniors



Carpentry

Construction technology provides students with skills necessary for entry into the carpentry field. Students in the eleventh grade participate in lab-based instruction where they learn about the tools, machines, and techniques of the construction industry. Students acquire skills by building items such as cabinets, bookcases, sheds, and small additions to houses. Twelfth grade students do construction projects in the Tantasqua community. Examples include building house as well as building additions to houses, decks, and garages.

Seniors

The Electrical program is a two-year course designed to allow its graduates to enter the work force as entry-level electrical apprentices or to continue their education at a post secondary setting. The program's graduates have been very successful in the electrical industry.

A first year student spends 50% of their time in electrical classes. The student's electrical time is divided between the electrical classroom and the shop. During the second year in the program, 75% of the school day is spent in Electrical. Most of that time is spent at the off site-wiring job and the remainder is spent in the electrical class and motor lab.

Machine Shop

Everybody needs to find a job that fits him or her. Machinists do things that no one else can do. They live and excel in a world where things too small to see make a big difference. They possess special skills and unique knowledge. Machinists do real work in a world full of man-made stuff. They make cars, jet planes, production tooling, precision instruments, and a better America. Having a career in a professional world of exact specifications and real deadlines seems to show their character and hard work.

Juniors

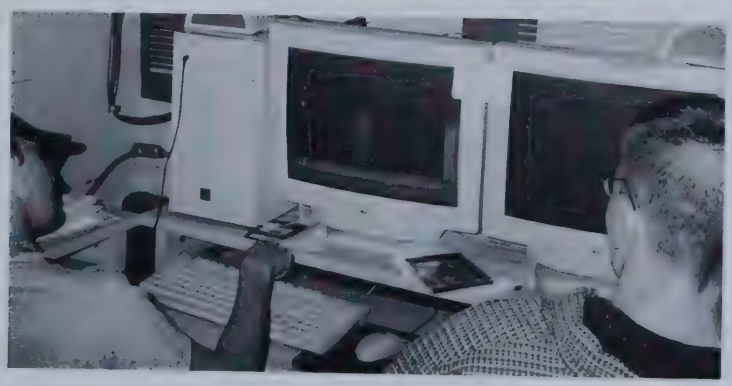
Computer

In only it's third year, the computer technology class has accomplished many great feats. The class worked diligently to be sure that Tantasqua would be ready for the new millennium. Besides fixing the "Y2K" bug and volunteering throughout the school and community, the class concentrates on learning about the oldest models of computers all the way up to the newest models.

The goal of the class is to prepare to take the A+ Certification exam, which is an industry standard in the field of computer service and repair. Students have improved system performance, fixed mission critical computers, and aided students and faculty with their personal computer problems throughout the school. This year's senior class will be the first to graduate from the course. The junior class will then take their place as the school's resident computer technicians.

Drafting

If it's man-made, then someone designed it and someone made a drawing of it so it could be manufactured. Drafting and Design classes help prepare Tantasqua students for entry level drafting jobs, one- and two-year college level drafting and engineering technology programs, and four-, five-, and six-year engineering degrees. If you are planning to be an architect or engineer at any level you need a drafting/CAD (computer aided drafting) class so you can be prepared.



It seems that there are more and more extra-curricular activities for students of Tantasqua every year. The Thomas Jefferson Forum broke new ground in community service. GSA was more visible than ever this year with its informative posters around the school. The Tomahawk continued to sparkle, and the Math Team solved equations like there was no tomorrow. Business Club continued to conduct fundraisers and fitness club kept on lifting weights. Tantasqua offers more clubs than one student could ever participate in (which will be great for those college resumes).

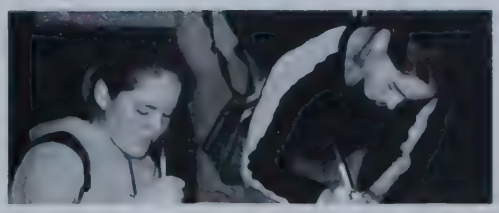
KEEPING IT ACTIVE & HITTING THE BOOKS

Such concentration!! What do you think Geoff Zini is reading?



WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING AT?

Five guys, staring in one direction, what's going on? Girls' soccer or field hockey? Only they know.

"I am invisible, you see, only because people refuse to see me."
— Ellison —

Legs by the lockers

Peace!

Woody's such a good guy, he'll even give skeleton Seymour McCoy the clothes off his back so everyone can look good for the camera. Smile all!!!

"Shut up! Shut up, you Tantasquian. You always talk, you teenagers. You talk and you talk, and say 'let me tell you something' and 'I just wanna say this'." Well you're dead now, so Shut Up" — Grim Reaper —

Crystal, Gary, Bethany and Geoff smile for Ashley's camera. Can we look any cuter?

Active Tantasquians are always in the spotlight, whether they know it or not.

"Time flies like an arrow, fruit flies like a banana" — Groucho Marx —

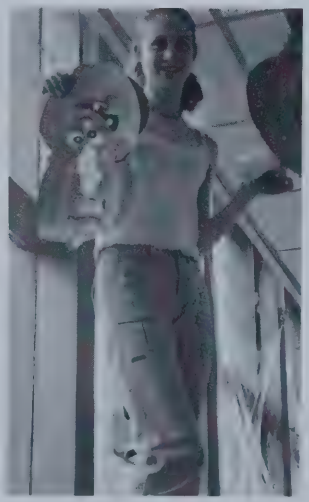
"I think therefore I am ... Dangerous" — Mr. Hitov —

"I learned if you put a roach down a girl's shirt, she goes crazy" —6 year old —

If you are what you eat, I am fast, cheap and easy. Did somebody say McDonalds??

"Me, fail english?? That's unpossible"

We hope you enjoyed this little tour of Tantasqua's clubs and activities. We all have worked hard to enjoy this year and hope that everyone did the same. Thank you for joining us, and please make sure you wipe your feet at the door and take all personal belongings with you.



The Tantasqua sports teams broke new ground this year with boy's soccer and the field hockey team both advancing to districts. The baseball team will be returning most of its starters from last year, hopefully providing an all-around good year for Tantasqua sports. With a new gym in the works, and maybe even drinkable water, it seems as though the sports program can only improve in the next millennium.

Football

Although the football team didn't have the most successful season, they certainly showed some spirit out on the field. The football team was full of talent, and it is hoped that they will do wonderfully in seasons to come as underclassmen move up in rank. Led by captains Nick Ferron, Matt Laprade, and Dave Green, and Coach Thompson, the team always put their best foot forward on the field. With great perseverance and teamwork, we wish them luck on a better season for next year.

Cross Country

The boys' cross country team, led by captain Andrew Wood, and the girls' cross country team, led by captains Heather Audet and Ruthann DeGutis, had amazing seasons this year. Andrew helped to lead his team to its second straight undefeated season coming in first place at every race. He continued on through districts and eventually ran in the state competition. The girls also had an outstanding performance this year losing only two meets. Yet another amazing season for both cross country teams!

Boys' Soccer

With an even more successful season than last years, the boy's soccer team has once again made Tantasqua proud. Led by captains Keith Romano, Brian Hrybyk, and Matt Dubois, the team finished with a 15-3-2 record. They didn't stop there, however. The boys continued on to districts and made it to the semi-finals. Although Coach V is losing some of his best and most reliable guys when the seniors leave, he can look forward to a good team next year. The seniors hope that their spirit and determination will be carried on through the underclassmen as they step up and assume new roles out on the field.

Field Hockey

Led by captains Shawna Hughes, Amber Hillman, and Meghan Lawrence, the field hockey team had its ups and downs. With an overall record of 6-6-6, the team showed great spirit and determination out on the field. Coach Gaylord was able to lead the team into districts. Due to the team's high number of underclassmen, there are even greater hopes for next year's team. With the girl's practice and talent, next season should be a great one.

▲T ... H ... S! THS!

New girls, new routines, and a new spirit is what our cheerleading squad is this season. The expanded size of the squad has led the coaches to be able to use new and exciting dances and cheers. The cheerleaders have certainly helped to make the games this winter more spirited than ever. The cheers, with the help of the crowd, have never been louder! And the tricks from the squad never harder!

▲The girls are always there to show some support.

Golf

The Tantasqua golf team, comprised of 10th, 11th and 12th graders, and led by captain David Nelson, had an outstanding season. Many young players this season helped the team out and should be great assets in the future as they gain more experience and knowledge of the game. A record of 10-1-8 is good for this flourishing team. Coach Keenan led the boys to defeat over some of the hardest teams in the area, but with such a line up of young men, how could they lose?

Boys' Basketball

Our boys' basketball team had an incredible season this year! Led by captains Brent Kenneway, Pat Donnelly, and Doug Adriance, they ended the season with a record of 12-5. With a strong cast of returning seniors and juniors and some great new sophomores the basketball team awed everyone. The school spirit for the team was amazing at each game and our own personal "warrior" certainly helped to liven things up. The boys will be competing in districts and hope to make it to states. To add to the excitement, Brent scored 1000 points this year. Great job guys! It was certainly fun watching all of your games. Oh, and did we mention — we even beat our enemies Southbridge. We were all at the ends of our seats for that one.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team had yet another wonderful season. Led by captains Gretchen Muller and Ashley Belanger, their final record was 14-6. Like the boys, the girls will be competing in districts. The strong seniors set a good lead for the juniors and sophomores to follow allowing them to show their own talent. The team should be talented well into the future to make for some great games and some great opportunities to show some school spirit.

Indoor Track

On your mark, get set, go! Indoor Track went very well this season with captains Joe Coan, Brad Campbell, and Matt Dubois for boys and Abby Walker, Leigh Thibert, and Kara Simpson for girls leading the pack to victory. All the training which includes running in some not so favorable conditions (rain, snow, wind, and cold) on some not so friendly terrains (the THS hill, the perimeter of the school grounds, and the muddy puddles) certainly paid off. Not only did certain members of the track team make it to districts, but some even went to states. Don't get too tired guys!

Baseball

The '99 baseball team had its share of new experiences this year. Captain Andy Wood, with the help of Coach Farrell kept the team going with his excellent sportsmanship and leadership skills. The only senior, Tom Laprade, will be missed in next year's season, as he was an excellent asset to the outfield. Since last years team was primarily underclassmen, there are hopes that the returning team will bring experience and insight to the field. The team should bring back its great attitude and determination as well.

Softball

The Varsity Softball team, led by captain Christine Banks, had a winning season this year. Not only this, but the girls also earned something everlasting, a strong bond of friendship and teamwork. A 12-6 record proves their accomplishments. For a sport such as softball to operate successfully, teamwork is a necessity. This varsity team certainly had teamwork and showed it quite well throughout the season. Coach Ciprari led the girls in a turnaround at the start of the season that changed their record from one that was failing to one that was strong and competitive.

Boys' Tennis

The 1999 Tennis team finished an excellent season with Coach Lucas and captains Charley Light and Jon Palmer. The Seniors of '99 were able to graduate with four league champs this season. The team never stopped working and was always determined to be the best. With strong leadership, the captains did an extraordinary job of leading the players and keeping them fit and ready to play. The team looks to next year's team with even greater hopes and aspirations for a great season.

Girls' Tennis

The 1999 girls Tennis team had another successful season thanks to the coaching of Mr. Parker and the leadership of the captains Meg McKinstry and Pam Beaudry. The three Seniors who will not be returning next year had a great season and their sportsmanship and skills will be passed down to upcoming players. With a record of 14:4, the girls were able to surpass their season from last year. They worked very hard to reach their goals and they deserved their success.

A Message To Jamie,

-In 1982 we were blessed with a beautiful, healthy baby girl.

-In 1987 we sent you to school for the very first time, and ever since that day you have given nothing less than 100% of yourself. You have risen way above our expectations, and we couldn't be prouder than we are today...thank you for making our job so easy.

-Though it's hard to imagine these years are behind us, we will always have the pleasant memories of watching you grow, and we know you are prepared for the next phase in your life. Congratulations! The future is yours!

-In 2000 we are blessed with a beautiful, healthy, wonderful young woman.

We Love You Forever,
Mom, Dad, and Ryan

Justin,

We watched you grow from a 6 lb. baby to a fine young man, and you worked hard to get to where you are today.

Dad and I are very proud of you and wish you the very best in the future. We will always be there for you Justin.

Congratulations

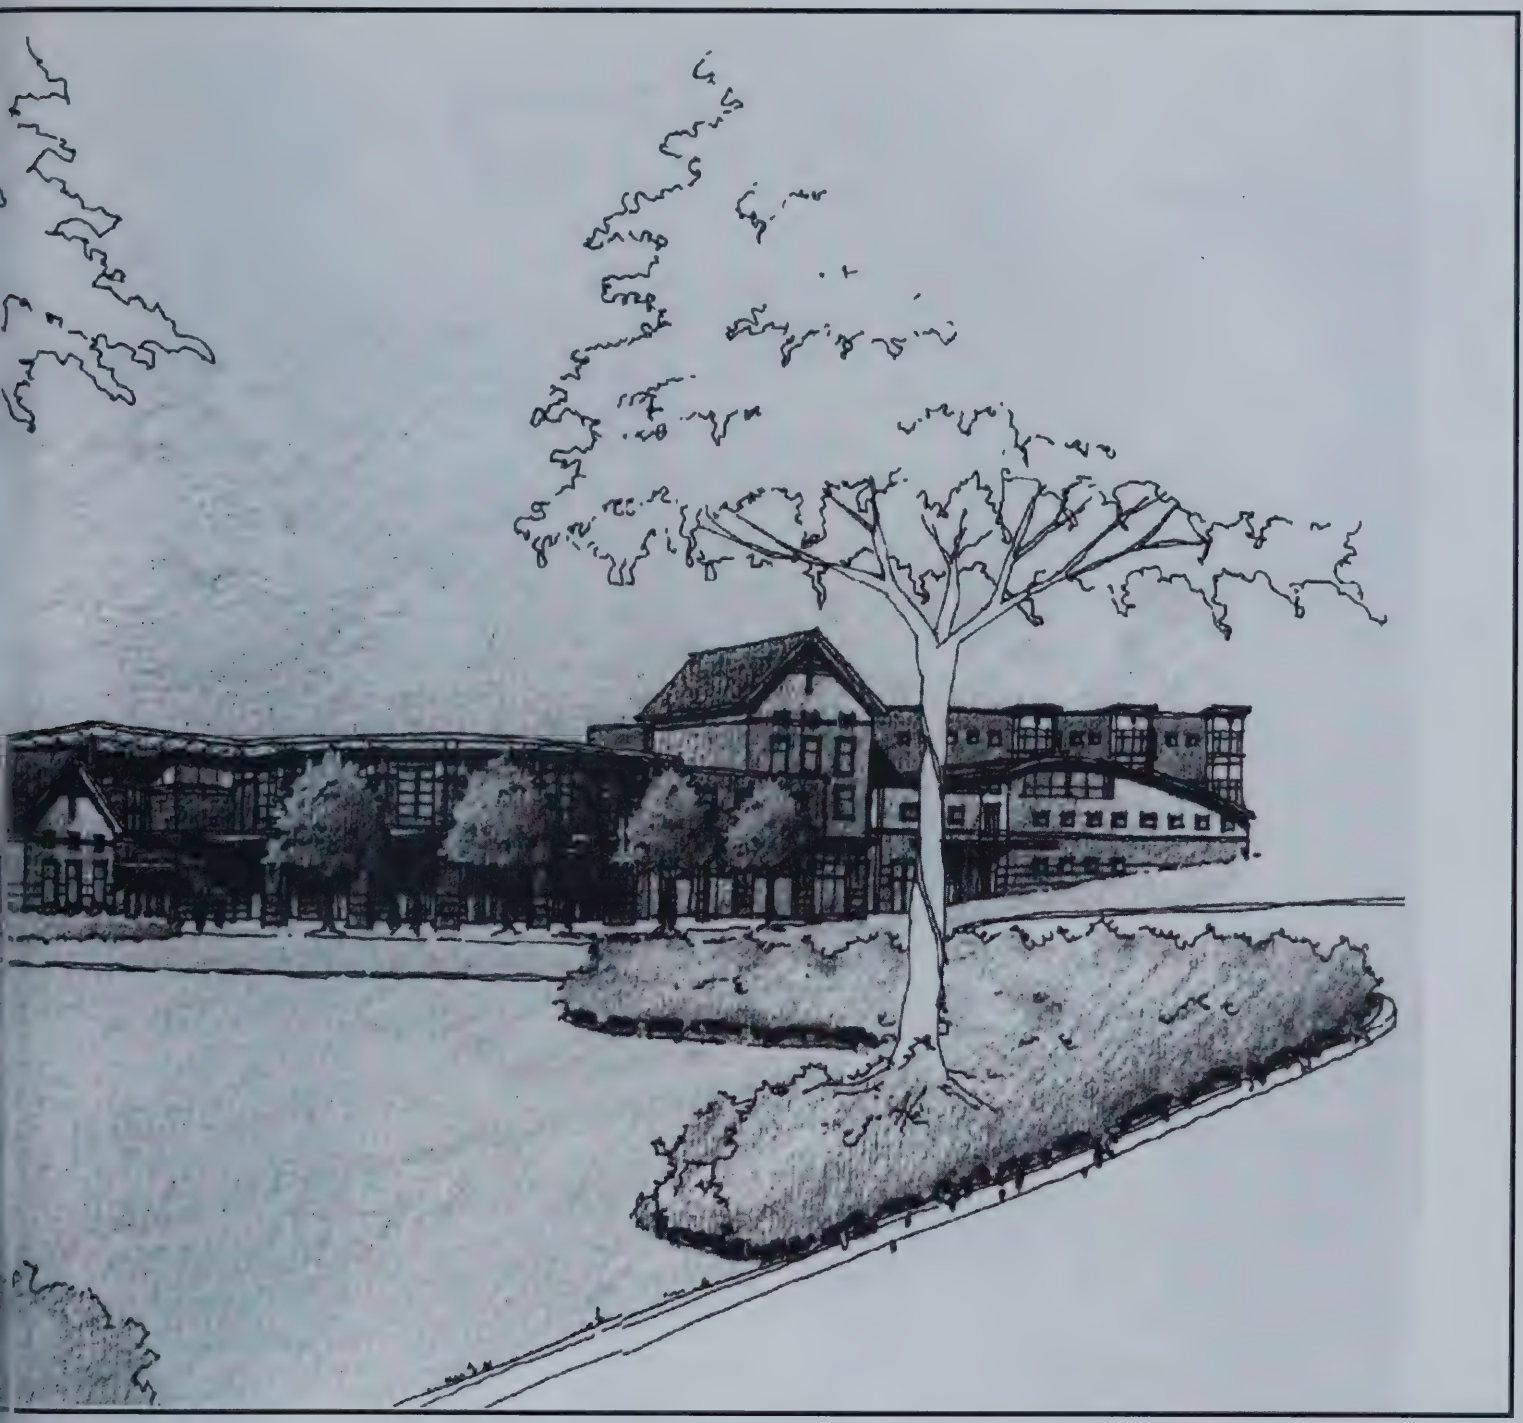
CLOSING ...



What a groundbreaking year for Tantasqua! The new millennium went off without a hitch, Wal-Mart employed many students, and we still had time to take all of these great pictures. With all of the sports, activities, and learning going on, students still had time to enjoy life. In addition, the prospect of a new school gives us all a hope for more exciting and groundbreaking events in the future.

Y2K pushed us all into new ground. Back in the twentieth century it was difficult to see beyond December 31, 1999. Today, however, an entire millennium stretches before us, bounding with possibilities. Let's hope we can break as much ground in the new millennium as we did in the last one.
